

Fulcrum 09 Racing Torq RRS chainset

FULCRUM is a sister company of Campagnolo, with many products using identical technology. The brand has been cleverly used by Campag to get its wheel range into the hands of Shimano customers, and more recently its chainsets.

The new Fulcrum Racing Torq RRS is, to all intents and purpose, a Super Record chainset, complete with CULT ceramic bearings, hollow carbon cranks, Hard-Ox anodised rings and the same Hirth joint-Ultra Torq BB axle. The weight, complete, is an impressive 695g. However, one thing that sets the Fulcrum apart is that it remains 10-speed compatible as Campag pushes on to 11, so as a tasty aftermarket alternative, for Shimano or SRAM-equipped bikes, the RRS has a lot of potential. The chainset is £459.99, plus an additional £24.99 for BB cups.
